RE: Invitation to Judge at The 2016 Denver International Wine Competition

Dear Colleague,

I am writing to personally invite your participation as a judge at the 2016 Denver International Wine Competition. In its twelfth year, this competition is quickly gaining respect as one of the top wine competitions in the southwest. Please visit the official competition website for details: www.denverwinecomp.com

The Denver International Wine Competition is open to all wineries that have or plan to have distribution in the State of Colorado. Wines are tasted "double-blind" by a distinguished and diversified panel of 30 local and nationally recognized wine professionals.

We are most grateful that The Omni Interlocken Resort has graciously agreed again to be the official host's of this year's competition!

•PR Coverage

All judges are acknowledged at the events, the competition website and in our promotional materials. All winners and judges our listed in our nationally distributed post competition press release.

Thank you for your support & participation! Please fax or email the attached judge registration to my attention.

Please note for 2016 we are utilizing the Enofile Online Wine Competition System. This system is used by many professional competitions worldwide. They have an excellent Judges section. In addition to completing this form, please email a 2-3 paragraph bio about your professional credentials and past judging experience. Please also email a headshot as a JPEG in the highest resolution to me. Please no blurry phone shots!

We greatly appreciate your support and participation!

With kind regards,
